INSTRUCTIONS

1. Before you start painting your base coat make sure your bisque/ceramic is dust free, if you find dust on your item, damp a sponge with water and wipe it down (lightly).
2. With your large flat angled brush add #62 making a light brush stroke effect onto the mug.
3. Let the brush stroke dry.
4. With a toothbrush splatter #43, dip brush bristles on paint (watch video for toothbrush technique)
5. Repeat same step with #64.
6. With a clean large slightly angled brush add #67 to create clouds.
7. When creating the clouds, tap the bristles of the brush lightly in circular motions.
8. First coat doesn't need to look solid or perfect, let coats dry in between.
9. Make sure to add 2 coats.
10. Repeat same steps with #93 only painting 1 thick coat, by doing the same circular motions (same as step 7).
11. For this step make sure the paint forming the clouds isn't too dry or wet to create swirls within the clouds to give the clouds more definition.
12. With the bottom of the same brush start creating swirls within the clouds. Some swirls could be big and small, oval or round in shape.
13. Repeat the same swirls patterns on all the clouds. When creating the swirls make sure to go over it twice until you see the color of the ceramic/bisque.
14. After paint dries, remove the excess paint of the swirls, use a dry clean brush to brush off the paint.
