INSTRUCTIONS

1. Sweep a thin layer of Vanilla Bean using your fan brush making x shaped movements all over the top. This layer needs to dry for about 10 minutes.
2. Water down the rest of your colors with 50% water to 50% paint.
3. Once the background is dry apply your masking tape stripes. Vary the space between the stripes as this will be where your colors go.
4. Use your fan brush to apply one thin coat of Vanilla Bean on top of your tape to help seal it down.
5. Next, fill in the stripes with your watered down colors, apply two coats.
6. When the stripes are dry, remove the tape.
7. Finally use your fan brush with just water and gently sweep going the same direction as your stripes to soften their edges.

TIPS

- You only need to do 2 coats on these for the water color effect.
- Don't be too stressed about the stripes being perfect, we are going for organic.
- The harder you push down on the liner brush, the thicker the line will be.
